

Grass greens for Elk Point in 1993

Elk Point Golf and Country Club is going full steam ahead with a project which will give the course grass greens and an irrigation system to keep them that way, bearing a price tag in the $260 to $265,000 range. So far, the Club has constructed a 4.5 million gallon water reservoir and has "moved a lot of dirt" according to spokesman Ed Buck.

Funding for the project comes from both the previous and new Community Facility Enhancement Programs, $50,000 each, as well as a $20,000 grant from the County of St. Paul Community Tourism Action Plan.

These, along with a $30,000 nest egg the Club had in the bank, gave $150,000 for a good start on the project.

Now the Golf Club has donations coming in. JMB Crushing was first on the list with $15,000 committed, with another $10,000 coming from E-Can Oilfield Services. Shamrock Valley Enterprises has indicated they will donate $10,000 in work, and the Elks Lodge has offered $10,000 over three years, Buck said. Other contributions have indicated by Lakeland Oilfield Service, Don Anderson Trucking and Ernie Poitras Welding. "For the balance, we're looking at contributions from community organizations and club members to complete the project in 1993."

The Town of Elk Point has also helped the project along, with the previous Council donating a pump and helping with supply of power to the property.

The Golf Club is eager to complete their upgrading project as economically as possible, in such a way that "we can charge a reasonable fee to use the course," Buck said. "To that end, we're looking at doing a lot through sweat equity."

IT'S PARTY TIME

HAVE A SAFE, SENSATIONAL
NEW YEAR.

Elk Point shines for Christmas

Elk Point residents and businesses went all out this year in decking their homes for Christmas, and the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Lighting and Decorating Contest judging committee had a challenging job to determine the winners, following their tour of the town on Monday, December 21.

Joe and Jeanne Miller, with Santa ready to hop down their chimney and an illuminated snowman as the centrepiece of their yard, took first prize in the Residential division. Russ and Terry Hebblethwaite's large residence shone prettily through the trees across from Mural Park for second prize. Third went to Rick and Brenda Patroch, whose combination of lights and evergreen garlands make their home equally attractive day and night. Honorable mentions went to Don Mudryk, Nick Melnyk and Tony Bochon, who all did their utmost to set the town aglow for the season.

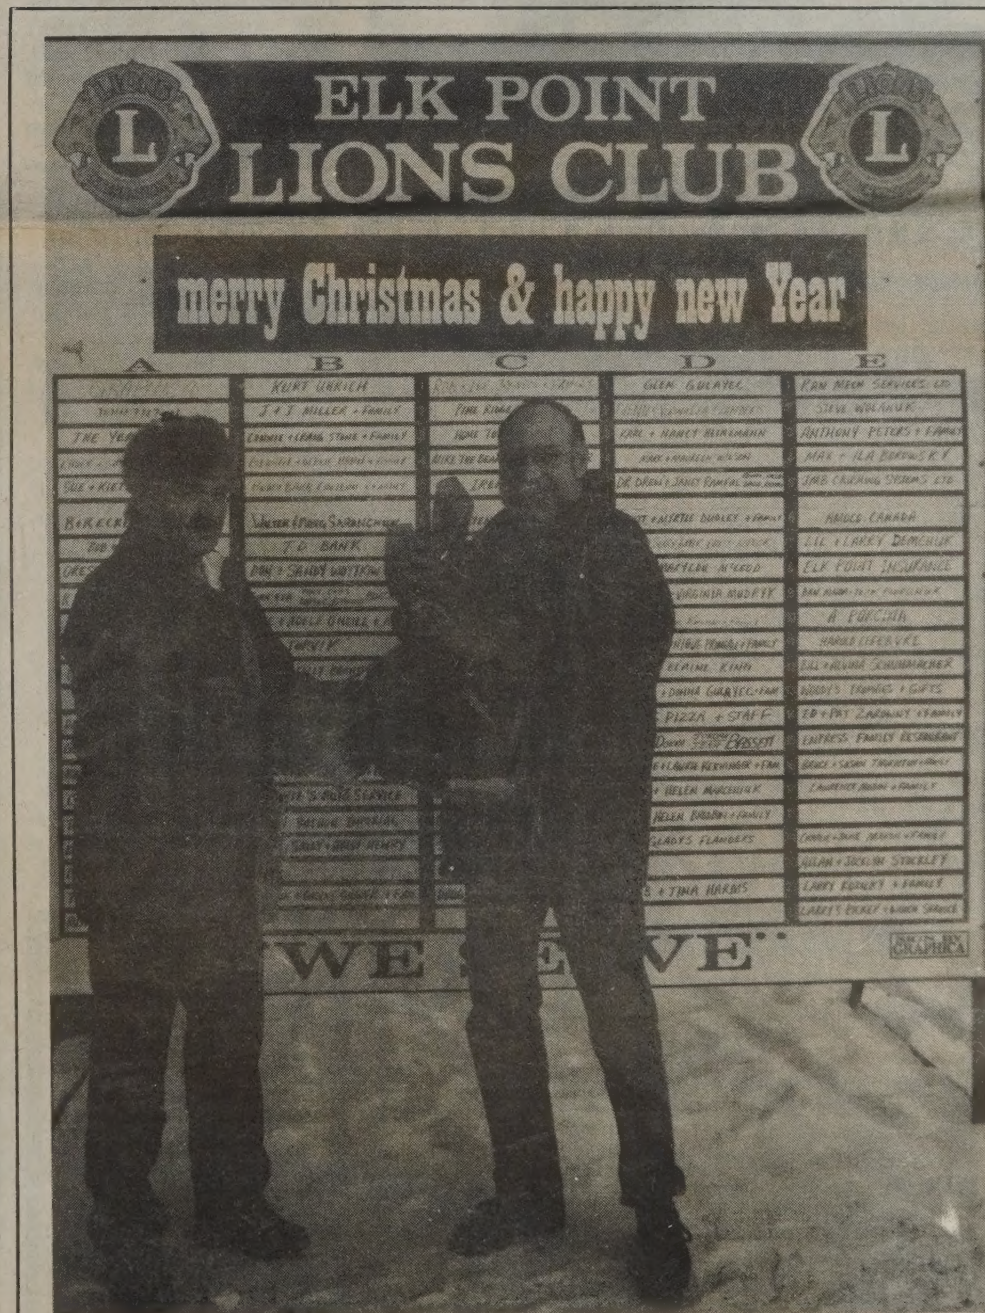

The judges determined Dave's Pizza, with their entire interior, as well as their windows, sparkling with lights and tinsel for the occasion, as the first place winner in the Commercial class. HomeTown Grocers, with Mr. and Mrs. Santa high on their rooftop and a tiny town highlighting their interior decor, was second, with Capitol Drugs window light display making them the third prize winner. Honorable mentions go to Video Point, whose window display of animated Mr. and Mrs. Claus invited shoppers in to see a musical carousel in action, and the Toronto Dominion Bank where the decor focused on numerous colorfully wrapped packages.

A special Honorable Mention goes to Heritage Lodge, with their rooftop outlined with lights and trees lit in individual colors.

Apartment dwellers were also busy decorating for the season. First prize went to the North Block Apartment 204 residents, while light blue lights spelling out 'NOEL' on the second floor of the south block took second spot, and their next door neighbors third. Sorry, we have not been able to determine the names of these winners yet. If you are one of these residents, please phone the Review at 724-4087.

Thanks to all residents and businesses who took part for helping to make our community a very attractive and cheerful place to spend Christmas 1992.

(Sorry - weather conditions did not permit us to photograph the winners. If it warms up, we will give that a try for next week's issue.)

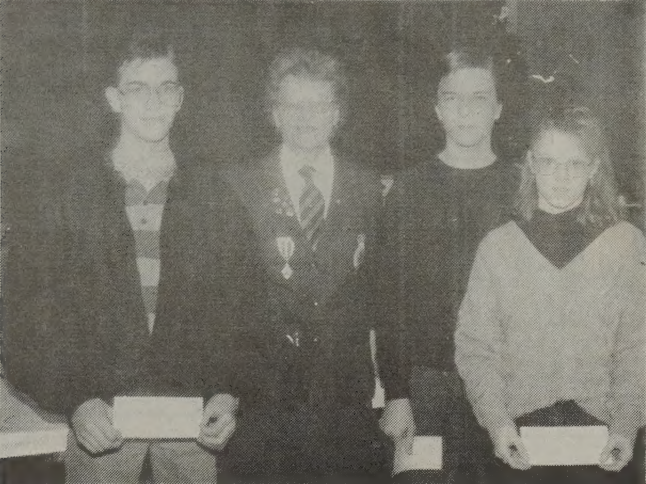

CHRISTMAS CARD WINNER - Each year the Elk Point and District Lions Club fills its Community Christmas Card with the names of businesses and individuals who wish to spread their greetings throughout the community, and each year, one of the names is drawn to receive a Christmas hamper. This year's winners were John and Elaine Zayonce, and John braved a frosty pre-Christmas morning to receive the prize from Lions member Vern King.

SCHOOL STAFF PRAISED - MLA John Drobot presented Principal Jim Hawkins with a plaque honoring the efforts of the FGM staff.

FGM entertains at brunch

One Christmas tradition in Elk Point is the Christmas Brunch at F.G. Miller High School, now in its 15th year under the guidance of teacher Ron Onusko. Each year on the last day of school before the Christmas break, the entire student body, the school bus drivers and a number of invited guests from the community gather for a gala mid-morning meal hosted by the school staff.

This year was no exception. The guest list included representatives of the RCMP, Chamber of Commerce, Royal Canadian Legion, the local clergy, MLA John Drobot, Mayor Ed Buck, retired teacher Sid Holthe and Mrs. Holthe.

Legion President Helen Moneta took this opportunity to present Legion Remembrance Day contest awards to Darrell Malo, Jeffrey Dostie and Joni Matthews. Four more awards, this time from the Federal Ministry of Science and Technology, went to high achieving students Tanya Stone, Charlene Anderson, Dorothea Naber and Chris Kittlitz.

MLA John Drobot brought greetings on behalf of Premier Ralph Klein, and joked that he has now outlasted three premiers during his years in office. He presented a plaque honoring the school staff, commenting "what a gang of teachers!"

Mayor Buck offered Christmas wishes from the Town of Elk Point and said that Christmas, as well as a time of joy and relaxation, is a time to respect oneself, one's teachers, parents and friends. "The teachers show their respect for you with this brunch. To earn their respect, you have to show respect to them." In the new year, Buck is hoping for a year of mutual respect among all concerned.

Reverend Sam Donaldson gave a special Christmastime grace before all present enjoyed heaping platesful of excellent food, all prepared by teachers and school support staff, as they prepared for two weeks away from school.

Paralympian glory

Belated congratulations go to Trent Farebrother of Elk Point, one of four Albertans who were part of Canada's six member Goalball team at the 1992 Summer Paralympic Games in Barcelona, Spain. The team placed fifth in world competition, according to information just received from the Alberta Sport Council.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY AWARDS - were presented to Dorothea Naber, Charlene Anderson, Chris Kittlitz and (not shown) Tanya Stone by teacher Ray Helliquist.

Seniors Christmas party

Irene Magnusson

December 4, 1992, was the evening chosen for the annual Christmas Party by the Elk Point Seniors group. For a change, they decided to take the evening off, not do the work, and have the meal catered. Jean Slywka's Empress Cafe supplied the desired service - namely, a lovely meal, hot and tasty, and neatly served. Reverend Sam Donaldson asked the blessing.

Following the food, friendly words were said: Sid Holthe, on stage, introduced the President of the Pioneer Circle, Lillian Palinka, Elk Point's Mayor Ed Buck, and MLA John Drobot, all of whom spoke words of welcome and of Christmas good wishes. Jim and Debra MacLellan and Lawrence and Margaret Modin sang "Silent Night" and "Away In A Manger," accompanied by Mrs. MacLellan Sr., followed by a nice poem read by Hazel Hannah.

The Young People's Choir from the Church of God, of Dewberry and Greenlawn, recited, then sang eight or ten Christmas-type songs. These fifteen young people used various arrangements, but all sang a capella, completely unaccompanied, a very "Christmassy" chorale.

Reverend Jim MacLellan addressed the group, with words of reverence and of humor, and told how the Christmas Tree tradition came to us from Germany.

Draws for the door prizes were made and announced by Sid Holthe, with winners being Elizabeth Zarowny, Karl Heinemann and Melvin McGinnis.

Violet McFadyen then moved to the piano, to accompany the assembly in the singing of the age-old Christmas songs, lead again by the Modins and Debra MacLellan. At last it was time to go home, uplifted by good songs, and surfeit with good food.

YOUNG PEOPLE ENTERTAIN - The Young People's Choir from the Church of God, Dewberry, entertained at the Seniors' Christmas Party.

HELP OUT AT TAX TIME - BE A VOLUNTEER

Community Services is working in cooperation with Revenue Canada to recruit and train volunteers to assist disadvantaged people in completing their tax returns - people who need a helping hand.

Your helping hand is needed. Volunteers provide a vital community service:

- to low income earners who cannot afford to pay a fee for simple tax help;
- to the disabled who may be unable to travel for assistance;
- to immigrants and new Canadians who may not understand English or French; and
- to the elderly, whose circumstances may limit the understanding of tax forms.

In Elk Point there are people who, for one reason or another, may not be able to fill out their tax return. You can lend a hand by attending a volunteer workshop and learn how to complete straightforward tax returns. The free workshop will be held on Tuesday, January 19, 1993. Reference materials and ongoing assistance will be provided. What's more, you will then be able to reach out and help your neighbors. This project is being coordinated by Community Services and all names and information will be kept strictly confidential.

To join the volunteer team or for more information call Community Services at 724-3800.

ON HAPPINESS...

There's plenty of pleasure in the here and now. Somebody once said that happiness is like a butterfly. Chase it, and you'll never catch it; stand still where you are and it will light on your shoulder.

Even when they find it, some people can't live with happiness. After a great success, instead of relaxing, they develop anxieties. They worry about lawsuits, accidents, the Internal Revenue Service, and other things. They keep looking for failure.

Look for pleasure, not pain. Find pleasure in little things; friends, good food, sunshine, flowers, laughter, and service to others. Learn that happiness is, for the most part, internal. It's a gift you give to yourself, not just during Christmas, but all year round.

Crusaders basketball hosts Ashmont

On Monday, December 14, Elk Point Senior Basketball played host to the Ashmont squads. Both teams were unsuccessful in the exhibition games.

The Senior Girls Basketball team played first at 5 p.m. They lost 40-18. "Their biggest problem was their shooting," says coach Dave Shankowsky. "They didn't take enough shots to begin with, but their shooting percentage was terrible also. Nothing was going in."

The team played solidly on defense, as Ashmont only got 40 points.

Lead scorer for Elk Point was Renee Anderson with six points. Ashmont top scorer was Iris Starosielski with 16 points.

The Senior Boys Basketball team fared better against Ashmont, but still lost, 74-58.

"I was very happy with the boys' offense," says coach Dalane Huber, "but for the boys to be successful they need to play a lot tougher defense."

Ashmont had two very tough offensive players, Evan Cardinal and Sheldon Cardinal who scored 29 and 30 points respectively. "I thought if we could have held them to only 20 points each," says Huber, "we would have won the game. It comes down to defense, and our team was the weaker. Offensively we're quite equal, but our defense needs to improve."

For the Crusaders, top scorer was Cameron Zarowny with 30 points. "Cameron played a great game offensively, but defensively he could have been tougher, but it will come with practice."

Other scorers include Jeff Lypka with 11 points, Chris Kittlitz with 8 and Danny Hanson with 6.

"Offensively I need my guards to start shooting the ball more, and making it. Until they do, Cameron, Chris and Jeff won't be able to get the ball inside. If the guards don't shoot, no one comes out on them, and the key gets cluttered."

The game got quite close with four minutes to play; the Crusaders came within four points, but due to some mental lapses, Ashmont's lead climbed again. "My boys forgot the press and on offense a few shots that should have gone in, didn't. They got excited, forced some shots, and didn't run the offense. But I'm sure with more experience, they'll do better."

In the new year, the boys will get more experience as they will play in four tournaments, begin their league and continue exhibition games. So be sure to come out and enjoy some action!

Finally the Senior Boys Basketball would like to thank another business for their donation. "We appreciate Norcen's support, along with Superior Propane Inc. as a contributor."

Elks defeat Dewberry 9-5

Elk Point Elks travelled to Dewberry this past Sunday night, and came home with a 9-5 win.

Rick Marcoux led the scoring with a hat trick, with Keith Campbell and John Olson each adding a pair and Cory Laboucane and Greg Desaulniers adding singles.

Penalties were numerous in the hard fought contest, with five of Dewberry's 24 penalties and two of Elk Point's 20 penalties being game misconducts.

The rivalry continues tomorrow night when Dewberry comes to Elk Point for a return engagement at 8:30 p.m. This should be one of the most exciting games this year so don't miss it!

To the Editor

Many thanks to the Elk Point Thunder Midget Hockey Team for the turkey which I won on their December 13 raffle draw. Being the first time I've won anything, it was a real surprise and will be enjoyed and shared by many over the Christmas season. Merry Christmas to all in Elk Point area.

Editorial

What are we thinking and feeling, as we come to the end of this - for some - long and weary year, perhaps for others, a bright and fulfilling year? Do we sigh, and think "Thank goodness, it's over!" Or do we say, inside us, "This was a great year! Bring on the next!"

I'm afraid I've not viewed it as an out and out success. After so many years, centuries, millennia, humans have not learned to love and respect their fellow man. They have not learned to share and care and reach out a helping hand. Of course, a few have; but for every helping hand, it seems there are two holding a gun or sword, demanding surrender and death from his neighbor.

It's gloomy to talk so, and that is not my purpose, which is just to make a few observations on the past year, as everyone who sits at a typewriter (or microphone) will do in this last week of the year.

Christmas is over, and I hope for all it was a joyful one. I hope as many families as wished to were able to 'go home' for Christmas, whether in reality or by phone or letter, or only in their dreams.

Here, in my area and town, the BIG DEAL of the year was the celebration of the Bicentennial of the first white people to the area. A lot of effort went into making it a memorable year, and we now have two new parks to show off for the effort. Three, including the Mural Park, which was dedicated and turned over to the Town of Elk Point on July 1st, by the instigators, the Elk Point and District Historical Society.

Also, in our area, we have had continuing dry weather, creeks, lakes and sloughs drying up, and a flurry of dugouts made, in hopes of collecting rain or snow for thirsty livestock. Prayers for rain seem to be the only thing to help the thirsty crops-to-come. Little snow has fallen, much of it blown off the fields, and now this last cold spell has bitten deep. And no, the August snowfall didn't help at all.

We waded manfully through a series of polling days; for local councillors, a Referendum on national internal policies, and for a new Premier for our province - which ran to two tries. You'd think our opinion was important, the times we asked for it. Can it be?

I get so tired of everything having to be a competition. It seems like all the sports, the art, the work or games has to be in competition, to prove, somehow, that we are better than our fellow man. It is like a subtle form of war, even in our living rooms. How much tension and rage is generated just by a ball game, or hockey, a race, or even figure skating, or dancing, the most graceful of all human activities?

One night I watched a skating show. It featured the best of the past few years' skaters, and it was not a competition. There were the greats, Brian Orser, Brian Petrunko, Elvis, Kurt Browning - and so many more, beautiful pairs skaters, flying over the ice, spinning overhead, turning flips and spins. Even Toller Cranston joined in, his magnificent grace and power seemingly unimpaired as he performed his breathtaking leaps and turns.

The wonder of this show was that they were not competing. They were skating for the sheer joy of it: to please an audience, surely, but more to please themselves. It was a giving show, to raise money for research and search for a cure or prevention of mankind's most fearsome disease - AIDS. And, true, one of their 'own' had succumbed to it. They were asking for donations in his name - but not to help him. They were asking for donations in his name - but not to help him. They were asking for all mankind.

Alberta Trails

By Irene Magnusson

The very real pleasure of doing what they do best, just for the joy of it, shone in their faces, from their eyes and from their lips. Think of how many things there are in life, that we can do, NOT to compete, but for the pleasure the 'doing' gives us! We can skate, dance, run, swim, fly, create art, music, sing! Games are much more fun, when we hardly notice the final score, but can say "that was a great fun game!"

There is a little song my Mother sang, and we learned, so long, long ago. It goes something like this:

Jesus bids us shine,
With a clear, pure light,
Like a little candle,
Burning in the night -
In this hour of darkness,
So we must shine,

You in your small corner,
And I in mine!

Jesus bids us shine,
First of all for Him,
Well He sees and knows it,
If our light grows dim,
He looks down from Heaven,

Just to see us shine,
You in your small corner,
And I in mine.

Jesus bids us shine,
Then for all around,
Many kinds of darkness
In this world are found,
Sin and want and sorrow -
So we must shine,
You in your small corner,
And I in mine!

- Author unknown

Shine (if not for Jesus, then whom you will). I don't think there is a truly great man or woman, now living or dead, who would not bid us the same. So draw from your heart a little light for the world; a smile, an uplifting word, a helping hand. Your light is needed now as much as at any time in history. Shine now, as we ease out this dreary old year and turn to face a new.

All right! Now for '93!

Believe it or not, all the predictions we had made in our December 31, 1991 issue were correct! Of course, that isn't hard when you bet on sure things, like the Bicentennial, dog sled mail (although we did have a few anxious moments on that one), the Visitor Reception Centre opening, openings of Mural Park and Recreation Park (we still like the name 'ParticiPark' better!) and the inaugural rodeo at the Fair Grounds. And, as we predicted, we were there when all those memorable events took place, freezing to the knees as we waited for the dogsleds to mush away, sloshing in the mud at the rodeo, running for cover from Canada Day downpours and seeking any possible bit of shade on Bicentennial weekend.

Now it's on to a new year, a year we will face with an almost totally different Town Council, a year without a written agenda, a year when almost anything can happen - and might!

We predict there will be a good chance of at least one of our senior governments seeing major changes due to an election, but that Premier Ralph will carry on in his new position unfazed through it all.

We predict that the Somalians will get fed, the Yugoslavs squelched and Saddam kept under surveillance, thanks to the military power of the western world.

We predict, on the home front, that Town Council will encourage slow but steady progress toward making our town an even better place to live. With the Town's encouragement, we predict the Chamber will make great strides toward downtown beautification and hospitality training so that visitors will want to come back again and again.

We also predict that while this year may not hold the overwhelming excitement of the Bicentennial year just past, but it will still provide a lot of good news for us to report to you. Have a happy and prosperous '93, everyone!

Pinders celebrate 50 years

Irene Magnusson

Don and Grace Pinder gathered with family and friends, December 5th, to mark 50 years of wedded life. Long-time residents of the Elk Point district, Don and Grace have lived continuously on their farm a few miles east of town. Here they raised their three children, Ken, Gary and Carol, and here they welcome their six grandchildren, when they come to visit, along with other family members and their many friends.

After many years of a mixed-farming life, Don and Grace are now retired on the farm, where Don, who always loved horses, keeps three head, and Grace passes some of her time with sewing and needlework.

The couple were married at Vermilion, on December 9th, way back in 1942 - not so long ago, looking back on it. The lovely reception, held in the

Seniors' Recreation Centre, was well attended, with numerous family members and a host of friends, eager to share this high point in Don and Grace's lives. Congratulations! May you share many more years together.

Friends sponsor successful bingo

The 'Friends of the Elk Point Public Library' would like to thank all the members who helped at the bingo they sponsored at Club Bingo in St. Paul on Sunday, December 20, 1992. This was their first bingo and the response from the members was encouraging. The next bingo will be held on the evening of Sunday, January 31, 1993. If you would like to help with this bingo, please let us know. Be sure to mark January 31 on your calendar if you would like to support the library by attending and participating in the games.

December 18 was the library's Preschool Storytime Christmas Party. Eighteen children listened to stories, watched the puppet show, and sang til the merry man all dressed in red appeared and handed out candy. Thank you to all the mothers who brought cookies and to Pan Canadian for their help. A special thank you to John McGregor for his contribution.

New Books

A new history book that has just arrived is Muddling Through, the remarkable story of the Barr Colonists by Lynne Bowen. When two thousand British ban clerks, butchers, housewives, saleswomen, remittance men and ex-Boer War soldiers followed Anglican minister Isaac Barr to the Canadian prairies to establish an all-British colony in 1903, they had little idea what awaited them. The author draws on diaries, memoirs and letters to tell them this remarkable story.

Nobody has been more accurate about how to profit from the future than Faith Popcorn, who in her bestselling book The Popcorn Re- portreports on what we'll buy, where we'll work and what we'll think in the next decade. This book offers hundreds of ideas for new products to create, new businesses to start and new markets to capture. A book anyone would enjoy reading.

The Prince Of Tides by Pat Conroy - Spanning forty years, this is the story of the turbulent Tom Wingo, his gifted and troubled twin sister, Savannah, and the dark and violent past of the extraordinary family into which they were born.

Cary Grant: A Touch Of Elegance by Warren Harris - In this biography, the author explores this elusive and controversial leading man.

'H' Is For Homicide by Sue Grafton - Private Detective Kinsey Milhone is on a case involving the death of a claims adjuster. This bestselling mystery series began with 'A' Is For Alibi.

Also, Parents! There are new children's books to read.
